The 115th Christmas Bird Count

Greetings Compilers,

Welcome to the 115th Christmas Bird Count season-we hope this message finds you well!

--The preparations are complete for the upcoming 115th Christmas Bird Count, and the initial version of the data entry application is now open for you to enter your upcoming dates, to check the information displayed to the public about your count, to access blank field forms, and to have a look at your compiler and participant lists.

--Your existing login information-your "username" and "password" from last year-will continue to work for you when you log in. You now also have the ability to manage your own contact information in the "My Profile" section under your login name; this is where you should update your email address if it has changed. Please note: if you change your e-mail address, this will then become you NEW Login NAME (your full e-mail address).

--PLEASE NOTE: new this season, you need to enter the date of your count for the 115th CBC before you can access the rest of the online data entry application.

--Christmas Bird Count login page <http://netapp.audubon.org/aap/application/cbc>

--the login page is the "Data Entry/Review" link in the right-hand menu options on the main CBC page www.christmasbirdcount.org

--Compiler's web page with everything you need to run your count:
www.christmasbirdcount.org/compilers

--The American Birds e-Newsletter with final results from the 114th CBC will be sent out this week. If you have not done so already, to receive future editions please sign up here by entering your email next to "Want to keep up with citizen science?": <http://www.audubon.org/citizenscience>

Please feel free to contact us with questions at cbcadmin@audubon.org

Cheers and Happy Birding!
