

Wrangell Species Checklist

John Schoen

Location Description

Surrounded by the temperate rainforest of the Tongass National Forest, the town of Wrangell is known as the Gateway to the Stikine River, an incredibly important resource for the birds, wildlife, fish, and people of the area. Both Wrangell Island and the Stikine River support a diversity of habitats that provide many opportunities for birding, ranging from open ocean and rocky beaches to temperate rainforest and boggy muskeg.

Seasons

Spring: March–May
 Summer: June and July
 Fall: August–November
 Winter: December–February

Frequency Classification

- C = Common: Occurs in essentially all suitable habitats during appropriate seasons, with certain species at times abundant; species should be easy to find.
- F = Fairly common: Occurs in some or most suitable habitats during appropriate seasons, but less abundant and at times few in number; species often found.
- U = Uncommon: Occurs in relatively small numbers; species not observed regularly even in proper habitats.
- R = Rare: Either found in restricted habitat, or occurs most years in small numbers; species difficult to find.
- V = Very Rare: A species beyond its normal range that may occur intermittently and in very small numbers.
- A = Accidental: Only one or two historical records to date
- NP = Not Present or No Records: A species is generally not present in during a specific season (due to seasonal migration) or no records exist of a species' presence in that season.

This checklist was designed by experienced ornithologists and birders to help visitors to the Southeast Alaska Birding Trail plan and enjoy their trips. This list is not a guarantee that a particular species will be present at a given location, and not all species on a community list will be present at all sites in that community. This list is for recreational use only, not for use in scientific publications, environmental impact assessments or other planning documents.
